

Henry Plumbing Co.

🏆 WINNER, BEST PLUMBING CONTRACTOR

IN A CITY LIKE SAVANNAH, where historic charm often comes with aging infrastructure, plumbing is a critical consideration for homeowners and buyers alike. That's where Henry Plumbing Co. has carved out a trusted role, helping residents make smart decisions before small issues turn into major expenses. As owner Tonya Reed notes, plumbing is one of the major mechanical systems that can cause costly repairs, especially in older homes where problems aren't always as easy to spot. Using advanced camera and locator systems, Henry Plumbing can identify hidden issues such as roots in drain lines or other problems that could otherwise go unnoticed until it's too late.

Looking ahead, Reed notes that the plumbing industry is seeing a rise in the use of smart technology. "Leak detectors and auto shut-off valves are trending for 2026," she says, adding that many insurance companies are now requiring them, particularly for homeowners with a history of water damage. These systems monitor abnormal water use and can prevent disasters before they start.

Founded in 1968, Henry Plumbing remains a family-run, multigenerational business rooted in the community. "We're committed to educating people about plumbing and providing opportunities for others to learn the trade," Reed says, continuing a legacy that supports both local homeowners and growth within their industry.

"Leak detectors and auto shut-off valves are trending for 2026."
